

I am among those that think science has great beauty. A scientist in his laboratory is not only a technician, he is also a child placed before natural phenomena which impresses him like a fairy tale.

-Marie Curie

Our scientific power has outrun our spiritual power. We have guided missiles and misguided men.

-Martin Luther King, Jr.

